

Dead Bat

Delaware Division of Fish and Wildlife is asking the public to report and turn in any dead bats found for White-nose Syndrome Surveillance. Recently-dead bats provide us the most relevant information. Not all dead bats found will have died because of White-nose Syndrome. It is not directly obvious if the bat has White-nose Syndrome – the fungus is not outwardly visible at all times of year. If the bat is found dead inside a building near children or pets, contact the Division of Public Health at 302-744-1070 or toll free 866-972-9705 for further instructions.

Please print this form and submit with bat to the Delaware Natural Heritage and Endangered Species Program, (302)-735-8651. Dead bat should be double bagged in zip-lock bags and frozen until arrangements can be made to collect the animal(s).
